Lewis Hammel's horse ran off yesterday morning. The driver was slightly hurt.

John Low has nine roosters and two hens which he wants the owners to come and take home.

James Connair's case before the Mayor, for alleged violation of the liquor laws, was partially tried yesterday.

The invoice of the Postoffice property did not take place yesterday as expected, the commission of Mr. Jones not arriving.

Mrs. George F. Adams, Mrs. James Harrison, Mrs. Emma Carlton and Miss Fannie Carlton will have charge of the art exhibit to-day.

The Indianapolis Benevolent Society's social and supper, to have taken place at Gresh's Hall, to-night, has gone over to next Tuesday.

Thieves stole three hams, a jar of lard and $5 from Charles Stuckmeyer's shop on the corner of Pine street and English avenue, Tuesday night.

Charles Emory Smith, of the Philadelphia Press, has been selected to deliver the address before the undergraduates of Butler University on the 18th of June.

The case of Trustee Kitz vs. the Board of County Commissioners, is to come up before Judge Ayres this term. It is a question of the construction of the statute as to fees.

Judge Woods, of the Federal Court, has denied the motion for an injunction by the Consolidated Safety Valve Company against E. B. Kunkle, of Fort Wayne, to restrain him from infringing upon the Richardson pop safety valve patent.

A stable on the line of the Wabash Road, near Eighth street, belonging to a Mr. Crow, was burned yesterday afternoon. Loss $75. It caught from sparks out of the stack of an engine.

Deputy Sheriff Marshall, of Sullivan, Ill., passed through the city yesterday, from Kentucky, with Glen Williamson, who is wanted for the murder of Grant White, last July.

Mr. John Baker, of Henderson, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Baker is an applicant for the Postoffice at that place, and is well qualified for the position, and is one of the few soldiers that was permanently disabled in the war and never has received a pension.

Although there is no specific provision in the bill, providing for the payment of the John Martin claim, authorizing the Auditor of State to draw his warrant on the treasury for the amount, the Auditor does not doubt but he is sufficiently empowered so to do. He will, however, submit the bill to the Attorney General for his opinion thereon.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE WONDERFUL HORSES AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The W. C. Comp equestrianism on exhibition every afternoon and evening, this week, at Dickson's Grand Opera House, more than fulfills the expectation of the public, and the audiences demonstrate their appreciation by enthusiastic and almost boisterous applause. Although amusement patrons have from their advertisements and advance notices been led to anticipate much, their anticipations have been realized to the fullest extent. It is entirely within the limits of veracity to assert that no such horses as the Comp horses have ever been placed on exhibition in this city, and that the display is popular and satisfactory to every visitor is not at all a matter of wonder. The rare element of perfect and absolute novelty abounds in every trick that is introduced by this marvelous equine troupe. They understand what is said to them with an intelligence that is almost human. They play a little comedy that is really funny, and they do many things that are marvellous. No one can see these horses and still believe that they are merely endowed with instinct and have no reasoning power. The clown of the party is Denver, a little mule who kicks up no end of a fuss and does many wonderful things. The performance is interesting from first to last, and every one should see it. Matinee this afternoon at 2. Popular prices.

Smith's Bell Ringers will be the attraction at English's Opera House all next week, playing at cheap prices.

The renowned Mexican Typical Orchestra, twenty-five artists, will be at the Grand Opera House the last three nights of next week.

It is said by those who have seen both parties, that Mr. Lewis, the principal owner of the horses which compose the W. C. Comp equestrianism, bears a striking resemblance to President Cleveland.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather the Dime Museum was well filled, both yesterday afternoon and last night. The "Camel Child," "Hop o' My Thumb," and the thousand and one other curiosities attract much attention, and furnish really one of the best shows of the season.

The Uniform rank K. of P. have secured Bartley Campbell's famous "Galley Slave" company for four performances at the Grand Opera House the first half of next week. An elegant set of Lodge jewels will be presented to the division selling the largest number of tickets. Mr. Fred Berger is in the city representing the company.

The Bird Had Flown.

Superintendent Lang left early yesterday morning for Lawrence County for the purpose of arresting H. C. Huffstetter, late Assistant Secretary of the Senate, on a bench warrant, the Grand Jury having returned an indictment against him for forgery the evening before. The Superintendent saw the relatives of Huffstetter and learned that his man had been in Bedford on Friday last, but since that time had not been seen, and he returned last night without him. The Superintendent states that the grandfather of young Huffstetter evinced great emotion when speaking of his erring grandchild, but could give no idea of his present whereabouts. A gentleman in this city some days ago stated that Huffstetter was going to New Mexico, and when speaking about him thought it possible that he had already left. The losses have all been made good by Huffstetter's grandfather, who is possessor of a handsome fortune and with whom the young man was a great favorite.

Hon. David S. Gooding's Candidacy.

In conversation with Dr. Boots, of Greenfield, yesterday, he informed a Sentinel reporter that Hon. David S. Gooding, of Hancock County, is a candidate for United States Senator, and will make an active canvass for the Democratic nomination when the proper time arrives. Dr. Boots could give no idea of the measure of support upon which Mr. Gooding depended, and he declined to express himself upon the merits of the race in any particular. He said that his informant was Mr. Gooding himself, and he was therefore certain that the gentleman was in the field as a candidate.

An Unusual Growth.

Secretary Herron, of the State Board of Agriculture, has on exhibition a mammoth clover root which has just been received from Dick Jones, one of the members of the board. The growth is common red clover and the roots, which consist of a large number branching off from the main stalk, are five feet seven inches in length and grow straight down into the ground. In his card accompanying the clover, Mr. Jones asks, "Who can beat this?"

Sanitary Convention.

A sanitary convention under the auspices of the State, County and Local Boards of Health, will be held at New Castle tomorrow, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., and holding three sessions. The programme as published in the Sunday Sentinel will be carried out in full. Not only the physicians, but the people as well, are invited to attend, as the subjects to be discussed are all of general importance to the people.

Mr. French at Plymouth Church.

The last entertainment of the season under the auspices of the Indianapolis Lecture Course was given last night at Plymouth Church by W. M. French, the "Lightning Caricaturist." His subject, "The Wit and Wisdom of the World," was illustrated by a large number of illustrations drawn in the presence of the audience. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was a very fair audience present.

Reduction in the Price of Gas!

Notice to Gas Consumers and Others.

Your attention is called to the marked reduction in the price of gas, which took effect on the 1st day of March. The Company is now furnishing gas to all consumers at $1.80 per 1,000 cubic feet. This price is certainly within the reach of all, for both lighting and cooking purposes. The convenience and comfort of cooking by gas, especially during the summer months, where a fire is not otherwise required, can only be thoroughly appreciated by those who have had experience in its useful application for that purpose. The Company has sold for use in this city during the last four years a large number of gas stoves, and is satisfied from the many testimonials from its patrons, that these stoves "will a long time want."

A CHAPTER ON CARPETS.

What the Rude Forefathers of the Hamlet Used—What They Could Get Now.

"CARPETS," said Albert Gall, the carpet dealer, to the inquiring reporter, "CARPETS, such as are now in common use in this country, were first used in the East—in the land of the Arabian Nights. You can't think of CARPETS without pictures of Haroun Al Raschid, Nouraddin and the Beautiful Persian, rising before the imagination as you see them sitting on the floor, cross legged, clapping their hands for slaves to bring in refreshments, and ejaculating 'Allah Achbar' or 'Bismallah.'"

"The patterns I am showing," continued Mr. Gall, "are much more recent—if fact, almost my entire stock is ENTIRELY NEW, and bought at the lowest price ever touched, so that I can sell CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE."

"Our rude forefathers covered the floors of their houses with rushes or straw. Even now in Norwegian farmhouses—that picturesque country to which our Indiana friend, Hon. Rufus Magee, is going as minister—where so many old customs still exist, the floor of the best room, in lieu of a carpet, is commonly strewn with juniper twigs. If they were near enough to this market I think the prices at which I offer CARPETS would enable them to cover not only their best room but all their rooms. They could have their choice of the finest lines in BODY and TAPES-TRY BRUSSELS, MOQUETTES, VELVETS and other Carpets at the LOWEST PRICES this city has ever known."
